ROOSEVELT SEES ODELL.

THE COLONEL SPENDS CONSIDERABLE TIME AT HEADQUARTERS.

MANY POLITICIANS CALL ON HIM THERE-SPEAK. ERS OFFER THEIR SERVICES-STATE COM-MITTEE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE TO MEET TO-DAY.

Benjamin B. Odell, jr., chairman of the Republican State Committee, was back at his desk in the Fifth Avenue Hotel headquarters yesterday. He spent a good part of the day talking over campaign topics with Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, the Republican candidate for Governor. Many local politicians called to see them, and Mr. Odell went with Colonel Roosevelt to call upon the Republican editors who held a meeting at the hotel. Among their visitors was Joseph H. Choate, who is living temporarily at the John T. McDonough, the Republican candidate for Secretary of State, brought to the headquarters news that the Democrats of Albany were much disgruntled over the ticket nominated at Syracuse. The Democratic leaders in Albany went to that convention expecting to get a candidate of their selection on the State ticket, and as they were not recognized they have been in a state of mutiny.

Colonel Roosevelt yesterday expressed surprise at a report from Washington that Adjutant-General Corbin had said: "Colonel Roosevelt's report is in my desk and will not be lost, but it will not be published. The Department has published the official reports of corps, division and brigade commanders. It will not publish colonels' report, and it won't make an exception in favor of any colonel, whoever he may be."

Colonel Roosevelt said he had not made any threat to publish his report if the War Department refused to publish it. He had supposed he said, that his report would be published with the reports of other colonels

There will be a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Republican State Committee at noon to-morrow at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, and part of the business to be transacted will be the settlement of the contest over the election of the member of the State Committee from the XIIIth Congress District. George W. Wanmaker has represented the district in the State Committee several years, but his re-election at the time of the meeting of the State Conven-tion in Saratoga was contested, he and Smith Pine each declaring that he had received twelve votes for the office.

The Committee on Speakers of the State Com-mittee or speakers of the State Com-

The Committee on Speakers of the State Committee opened headquarters yesterday in the Fifth Avenue Hotel, near the headquarters of the Executive Committee. Mr. Gleason, the clerk in charge of the new headquarters, said that there had been an unusually large number of prominent Republicans offering their services on the stump for Colonel Roosevelt this fall. The committee would have no trouble, he said, in supplying good speakers for Republican campaign meetings in every part of the State.

Although the campaign, as regards speaking tours through the State, will not open for some days yet, two or three Rough Riders have already volunteered to take the stump for Colonel Roosevelt. Lleutenant Greenwall has actually been engaged by the Committee on Speakers.

days yet, two or three Rough Riders have already volunteered to take the stump for Colonel Roosevelt. Lieutenant Greenwall has actually been engaged by the Committee on Speakers. He and a man named Harrington will speak together in several towns Lieutenant Greenwall will appear in his Rough Rider uniform, and will confine himself to relating Colonel Roosevelt's deeds in Cuba, while his colleague will take charge of the political part of each meeting. Lieutenant Greenwall has spent all his life in California. He is now at the Hoffman House awaiting orders from the committee.

Color-Sergeant Wright, who is noted for his extreme height and splendid phys'cue, and was for this reason selected by Colonel Roosevelt to carry the regiment's colors through the Santiago campaign, will probably also take the stump for his colonel. Color-Sergeant Wright was conspicuous for his bravery in Cuba, and enjoyed much the same luck as Colonel Roosevelt in escaping injury in spite of being a constant mark for the Spaniards, because of his stature and his carrying of the colors.

Captains McGuiniss and Liewellyn, who are now out West at their homes, may come East to speak for Colonel Roosevelt.

COL. ROOSEVELT AND THE GERMANS. A STATEMENT TO THE "GROSS NEW-YORKER ZEITUNG.

The "Gross New-Yorker Zeitung" publishes this morning the following statement from Colonel Roosevelt, given by him to a staff reporter of that paper, as to the position of the Colonel toward the German-Americans:

German-Americans:

'Thave always wished that we could assimilate one German word and the habit that it denotes: I mean 'Gemuetlichkeit.' The thing that impresses me most in dealing with my feliow-Americans of German origin, next to their law-anding orderliness, is the good-feliowship which enables them to bring their wives and children to the clubs and concerts where they themselves find enjoyment. If a man takes his wife and children to a place it speaks well for the man and well for the place. By the way, one of the eight captains of my regiment in Cuba was a German by birth, but he was Just as good an American as if his people had been here for three centuries. I allude to Captain Miller. His troop guldon was one of the first two flags planted on the summit of San Juan Hall. There were any number of my troopers who were of German origin; for instance, my orderly, who was closer to me than any one else in the fighting before Santiago. He was Heinrich Batscher, whose father was an 'Achtundvierziger.' I am glad of the support of all honest men. But I can say quite sincerely that I am more touched and pleased by the support of men like Paul Goepel, Hubert Cillis, Arthur von Briesen and the other gentlemen of the same standing and association than I am by almost anything else in the present canvass. I shall try to make them feel a genuine pride in my administration."

The Colonel had nothing to say about State issues, but it may be of interest to repeat what he stated while Police Commissioner in his testimony before the Senate Committee, as found in No. 41 of the Documents of the Senate of the State of New-York, 120th session, 183, where he said.

"For myself I would welcome any provision of law which would allow on certain hours of Sunday a man and his wife and children to sit down somewhere, and when they have taken some form of meal take their beer, and that is specially so in reference to what is perhaps the most orderly element of all, the Germans; there is real hardship in not heing able to discriminate be "I have always wished that we could assimilate one

REPUBLICAN MEETINGS. The Murray Hill Republican Club, with headmeeting last night at which a number of speeches were made in support of the candidacy of Theodore Roosevelt for Governor and the other nominces on the State ticket. Frederic G. Smedley presided and Edward Lyman Short, Charles Henry Phelps, Julius M. Mayer, Alexander V. Campbell, Joseph M. Deuel, James J. Nugent and John Sabine Smith made cloquent speeches. On Thursady evening next the members will parade through the dis-trict, after which another rally will be held in XXXth Assembly District last night with a rous-ing ratification meeting held in the clubrooms of the Rough Riders' Republican Club Third-ave. Colonel Christopher Goetz presided. Lieutenant Brenewitz read a telegram of regret from Colonel Roosevelt. Addresses were made by Frederick A. Schulze, the founder of the club; William Newman, the nominee for the Assembly; Hal Bell, ex-Assistant District-Attorney, and Miss. Heien Varick Boswell.

The West Side Republican Club held a stirring mass-meeting at the club rooms, No. 477 Boule-verd, last evening. C. N. Bovee, jr., the president of the club, presided. Lieutenant-Governor Woodruff, General Stewart L. Woodford, ex-Minister to Brain: ex-Assistant Corporation Counsel John Proctor Clarke and State Senator John Ford made rousing speeches, which provoked great enthu-siasm.

THECARNEGIE HALL MEETING

ITS SUCCESS ALMOST UNPRECEDENTED.

PROMINENT REPUBLICANS, INCLUDING GENERAL WOODFORD AND MR. CHOATE DISCUSS ITS EFFECT-COLONEL ROOSE-VELT GRATEFUL.

In Republican circles yesterday the main theme of discussion bore upon the almost unprecedented success and enthusiasm which attended the great meeting in the Carnegie Music Hall on Wednesday night. The strenuous efforts which were made by thousands of people to gain admittance to the hall, even when every seat in the interior was occupied, and the enthusiastic reception which was accorded to Colonel Rooseveit are regarded as a happy augury of the result of the election next month. Prob ably the fact mostly commented upon yesterday was the unity which Colonel Roosevelt has brought to the Republican party. At Wednesday night's meeting all factions of the party were represented, and none were louder in their shouts of approbation for the candidate than those who have consistently opposed the methods of the "regulars," and those who were supporters of Governor Black for a renomination at Saratoga.

Commenting yesterday upon the meeting General Woodford, who presided over it, said:

"I think last night's meeting will prove a vote-getter. The moral effect through the State of the practical and effective union of all elements of the Republican party should be very great. A Democratic friend said to me this morning that he and many Democrats of his acquaintance would support Colonel Roosevelt because they knew him to be capable, honest and fearless. Now, we want at least three great popular rallies on the East Side. The plain people like courage and honesty, and if Colonel Roosevelt can meet them face to face, and tell them that he will be the Governor of all the people, they will believe him. The thoughtful working people cannot like Tammany methods, and do not want them at Albany. I hope that our canvass will be brave, honest and aggres-sive. I believe the war should be carried into Africa

Joseph H. Choate said: "It was a splendidly enthusiastic meeting. In fact, I may truthfully say it was the best I have ever attended, and it augured greatly for the success of Colonel Roosevelt"

Rooseveit."
General C. H. T. Collis said: "I think it was the greatest meeting I have seen since the historical Lincoln campaign of 1800. There was more oratorical talent at the Saratoga convenmore oratorical talent at the Saratoga conven-tion and at the Carnegie Hall meeting than I ever knew to get together before on a rostrum. The selection of the speakers was exceedingly wise, and the readiness with which Mr. Choate and Mr. Low indersed Colonel Roosevelt will undoubtedly have great effect throughout the State."

Edward Lauterbach said: "The Carnegie Music Hall meeting was a great one, and was an harbinger of success for Colonel Roosevelt and Republicanism next month. I look for as splen-did a campaign this fall as that of McKinley. and that which carried Governor Black into office. I firmly am of the opinion that for a sec-ond time the city of New-York will give a majority for the Republican Gubernatorial can-

Lemuel E. Quigg said: "The principal effect of the meeting will be felt in the country districts. It will show the people of these districts that the party has been united under Colonel Roosevelt, and will win for him the undivided vote of Republicans throughout the State."
Colonel Roosevelt when seen at the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday afternoon said he felt more gratified than he could express for the recengratitude than he could express for the recep-tion which New-York tendered to him.

MR. CHOATE AND THE SENATE.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS TALK OF THE POS-SIBILITY OF CHOOSING HIM TO SUCCEED MURPHY.

Republican politicians in this city continued to talk yesterday about the possibility of the election of Joseph H. Choate to the United States Senate as the colleague of Senator Thomas C. Platt if the expected Republican majority in the State Legislature is secured at the coming election. Most of them agreed that the selection of a lawyer of Mr. Choate's abilthat the selection of a lawyer of Mr. Choate's ability and eloquence to succeed Edward Murphy, jr., as Senator from the State of New-York would be expected in the event of Republican success at the polls in November. It would be well for the party and well for the State, they said, to have a great orator, a man of high legal attainments and a statesman of sound financial views become Mr.
Platt's colleague in the Senate. The politicians were inclined to the view that the union of the Republican party in the State would be more closely expected if Mr. Platt used his influence to secure publican party in the State would be more commented if Mr. Platt used his influence to secure the election of Mr. Choate to the Senate.

Benjamin B. Odell, jr., the chairman of the Republican State Committee, said he did not think organization Republican leaders would oppose the election of Mr. Choate to the Senate. Senator Platt returned to the city from Washington last evening, but he said he was too tired to give an interview on any political subject.

JAMES M. WARD'S REPLY.

HE REPUDIATES THE SUGGESTION THAT THERE HAD BEEN TAMPERING WITH THE REC-ORDS IN THE ROOSEVELT CASE.

Assistant Corporation Counsel James M. Ward, whose name has been mentioned as one of those who took part in the alleged scheme to have Colonel Rocsevelt surreptitiously declared a non-resi dent of this State by the Supreme Court, returned to New-York yesterday from Albany. Mr. Ward is the counsel who appeared for the city in the proceedings which took place in the Supreme Court last Monday. Mr. Ward yesterday indignantly repudiated the suggestion that there had been any tampering with the records in the County Clerk's office. "I filed the petition myself," he said, "on September 21. I went myself because it was a very important case, affecting the people of the whole State. I told Mr. Fahrnach, the Deputy County Clerk, that I wanted to file the note of issue, and wanted it numbered. He said it could not be numbered then, as the blanks were at the printer's, but said he would give it a number later. That was the last day on which the note of issue could be filed." In the course of a written statement be filed." In the course of a written statement Mr. Ward said further:

On September 21 the original return was verified by the Commissioners of Taxes and filed by me in the County Clerk's office. At the same time that the return was filed I gave to the Deputy County Clerk a note of issue which I had drawn with care, paid, the statutory fee, and the case appeared, as it should, on the preferred calendar. In regard to the surgestion that Mr. Roosevelt's attorneys had no notice, their own writ required us to make return of our proceedings on the first Monday of October at a Special Term, Part III, and the Commissioners, in default of doing so, laid themselves open to punishment for contempt, which is the remedy provided by the statute, nor could it reasonably be supposed that Mr. Roosevelt would be injured even if in his absence an order was taken in accordance with the prayer of his own petition, which seems to be the suggested injury, in case his attorneys should fail to look at "The Law Journal" on either Saturday or Monday morning.

I stated in open court, in answer to a question of Mr. Root, that no notice of trial had been served, and gave as a reason that the time to fle the notice of trial had expired, and that if he chose to raise that point when the case was moved for trial it would undoubtedly have to go off the calendar.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION AP-POINTS A COMMITTEE TO CONFER WITH THE BAR ASSOCIATION REPRESENT-ATIVES AS TO NOMINEES.

The programme arranged by the Republican leaders for the Republican County Convention was carried out last evening when the convention met at the Murray Hill Lyceum, in East Thirty-fourthst., organized, authorized the appointment of a conference committee and adjourned until October 11 without making any nominations. A mild attack upon some unnamed justices of the Supreme Court was made by Lemuel E. Quigg, president of the County Committee, who ran the convention, and the attack was resented mildly by some of the lawyers who were delegates to the convention.

Mr. Quigg cailed the convention to order, and ccupied the chair until Edward Lauterbach had been made the temporary chairman. When George R. Manchester had been made temporary secretary Mr. Quigg moved that the temporary officers of and his motion was carried without dissent. Then he made a speech. He said that the only work for convention was to nominate three Justices of the Supreme Court and one Justice of the City Court. A committee of the Bar Association and another committee of lawyers had called upon him. he said, and their purpose was to try to induce the political parties in New-York County to renominate Justices of the Supreme Court who had served with ability and fidelity, and they had particularly mentioned Justices Daly and Cohen as being worthy to be nominated by both political parties. he had promised the committees that he would present their views to the convention and ask for an adjournment of the convention and the appointment of a committee to confer with the two com-

Then Mr. Quigg proceeded to say that the amaigamation of the courts under the operation of the State Constitution had caused several Democratic judges to be swept from lower courts into the Supreme Court. Some of those justices of the Supreme Court, he said, were "incompetent to try great cases." He used the expression after some hesitation, and then said that the justices had been elected to try less important cases than those con-ing before the Supreme Court. In the circumstances, he said, he thought the intervention of the Ber Association and of the independent lawyers of the city was justified, and the least the convention could do was to hear them, and the best the con-could do was to hear them, and the best the convention could do was to co-operate with them. He therefore moved "that the chairman appoint a committee of nine, of which the chairman shall be a member, to meet the committee of the Bar Association and the other committee of lawyers for conference as to nominations, and to report at an adjourned meeting of the convention."

Myer S. Isaacs got up and said that, while he did not wish to oppose Mr. Quigg's motion, he did not think the lawyers of the clips agreed with Mr. Quigg's statement as to the incompetency of any of the justices of the Supreme Court.

Mr. Quigg said he hoped a full opportunity would be given to any lawyer in the convention who wanted to compilment the courts.

Abraham Gruber said that he could speak without bias, because he had never been appointed a receiver or a referee by one of the Justices of the Supreme Court, but he was sure that the lawyers of the city believed that all the Justices of the Supreme Court were competent to sit on the Supreme Court were competent to sit on the Supreme Court bench.

Mr. Quigg's motion was then carried. Mr. Lauterbach appointed as members of the conference committee Thomas H. Hubbard, Charles H. Murney, James W. Hawes, L. L. Van Alien, Abraham Gruber, James M. Varnum and James A. Blanchard.

After the adjournment several lawyers who were delegates to the convention expressed sorrow because Mr. Quigg had spoken with want of respect for Justices of the Supreme Court. The general opinion of the delegates appeared to be that the convention would nominate Justices Daly and Cohen, even if Tammany declined to nominate them. A Republican may be named for the third place on the Supreme Court bench, and it is expected that Justice Olcott, of the City Court, will be nominated for the office which he now holds by Governor Black's appointment. GOVERNOR AT THE CAPITOL AGAIN.

WHY HE WILL NOT STUMP THE STATE FOR ROOSEVELT

Albany, Oct. 6 (Special).-Governor Black returned here to-day after several days of absence, and be gan once more to transact public business at the Capitol. He was ill after the Saratoga Convention from a severe cold, and as a means of convales-cence took a long carriage ride in the country east of Troy. Now he has fully recovered his health, and looks strong enough for any labor. He was greatly amused to-day over a newspaper

He was greatly amused to-day over a newspaper version of his letter to Theodore Robsevelt, in which he was made to say in conclusion: "Lovingly yours, Frank S. Black." What he did say was, "Sincerely yours," and he could not understand how any one could have believed him to have had "such a softening of the brain" as to have written "lovingly" instead of "sincerely."

In reply to an inquiry Mr. Black said that if he had been renominated he would not have made a speech, and he had no plans to do so, now that he was not a candidate.

"If Colonel Robsevelt should come to Troy," he added, "of course, he would be the chief speaker, and I would introduce him to his fellow-citizens there with pleasure."

and I would introduce him to his fellow-citizens there with pleasure."

Another subject of inquiry to-day was the time when ex-Judge Countryman would submit his report on the result of his examination of the investigation made by the Canal Commission. Mr. Black said he had not heard from Judge Countryman for some time, and did not know the condition of his work. He intended, however, to instruct his private secretary to write the Judge a note this evening and make inquiry as to the probable time within which the work would be completed.

On reassembling the Committee on Contested Seats reported only one contest; that was in one of the wards of the city of Yonkers, where the committee recommended the seating of Mayor Leslie Sutherland in place of Charles T. Coffenburg, the delegate-elect, who failed to attend, and whose place had been filled by John M. Vanleer, a Burns man, by the Burns majority in the delegation from that city. The committee believed the wishes of the remaining delegates from the ward should be consulted, and, despite the vigorous opposition of Senator Burns, their report was adopted. Chairman Cowles made an able address, urging harmony and unity of action among the delegates and an carnest, energetic support of the ticket to be nominated. The National and State issues at stake this fall were of the utmost importance, he said, and the principles of the Republican party representing the best interests of the people should be upheld by every member of that party.

CITY CIVIL SERVICE RULES ATTACKED.

ADDUMENT IN THE LEET CASE BEFORE THE COURT OF APPEALS. Albany, Oct. 6 .- A test case to decide whether

New-York City has a special complete and ex-clusive statutory system of civil service was argued before the Court of Appeals yesterday, and during the argument some interesting charges were made. The appeal is by George E. Leet from an order of the Appeliate Division. First Department, affirming a formal order made by Justice Kellogg, denying a motion for a writ of mandamus to reinstate and employ relator in the place of superintendent Julius M. Mayer, arguing for Leet, said: "This case involves questions of the very greatest importance. It is not merely a contest over a small office in New-York City, but a test case involving not only the right to hundreds of offices, but what is much more important, questions vitally affecting the Civil Service of the entire State and the whole tacked the system in New-York City, say-ing: "It is worthy of note that the new tivil service rules and regulations of New-York City, promulgated March 5, 1896, which have never been approved by the State Civil Service Commission, make most radical and serious changes in the system hitherto existing, a system approved by long experience, and radically City from that prevailing in other parts of the State. They amount to a virtual destruction of the competitive system. Scores of places, formerly competitive, have been placed in the excepted list and the labor force restored to politics; hundreds of have been made without examination, under a rule lently intended to continue indefinitely; many of the competitive places have been filled under excepted titles; removals have been made in great numbers without any statement of the reasons therefor, and without offering the slightest oppor-tunity for an explanation. All of these abuses were impracticable under the old system which was in impracticable under the old system which was in force prior to January 1, 1898. All of these abuses are directly due to the changes made by these new rules and regulations of March 5, 1898.

The annual result of this is that of the thousands of appointments made since January 1, 1898, only 249 have been made as the result of actual competitive examinations, and of these ulnerly-one were fremen appointed from the old eligible lists boilding over from 1897. Surely this is matter of State concern, and of the gravest importance to the people of the entire State.

"Why should the city of New-York make its own rules, and every other city be required to submit them to the State Board? Surely that could not have been the intention of the Legislature. Such a construction of the statute simply means that thousands of public places can be placed in the exempt schedule and political rewards dealt out in one city, subject to no control or supervision of the State, and in violation of the apirit of the Consti-

WHAT THEY PROFESS TO THINK OF ROOSE-VELT'S SPEECH-EX-JUSTICE VAN WYCK'S CAMPAIGN.

DEMOCRATS SAY THEY ARE HAPPY.

The Democratic managers profess to be happy. They say that Colonel Roosevelt's speech at Carne-gie Hall branded him as an issue-dodger, if he is not a tax-dodger. Moreover, they are well pleased over a letter received yesterday from ex-Governor William J. Stone of Missouri. Some time ago Mr. Stone was here and he gravely announced that unless the State Convention of the Democratic party reaffirmed the Chicago platform the local organization would be repudiated, its candid rejected and its actions disowned. Yesterday Mr. Stone's letter was received. It said that the State organization was right in ignoring National issues. if such were expedient, and commended the ticket nominated. Mr. Stone is looked upon as the spokesman of the straight-out, free silver and anarchistic Democratic party, and his words brought cheer to those who feared that the National organization would repudiate the local organization and seat contesting delegates in 1900.

Senator McCarren and the other managers at Democratic headquarters yesterday said that Colonel Roosevelt had made a serious blunder in con-fining his talk almost entirely to National matters. His speech, they insisted, would alienate thousands voters inclined toward the Republican ticket but who are opposed to expansion, a big increase in the Army and Navy and other ideas that the Colonel put forth prominently. Frank Campbell, of Bath, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, opened headquarters in the Hoffman House yesterday. He said in relation to Colonel Roosevelt's speech: "I cannot see what the campaign in this State has to do with the Philippines, an increase in the Navy and standing Army or other issues of a purely National character. New-York is only one of forty-live States, and there must be settled by the whole Nation. My idea is that this State is much of a business concern, and that this State is much of a business concern, and the question at issue is whether the Democratic or the Republican candidates are likely to conduct the business most successfully."

Augustus Van Wyck, the candidate for Governor, will make his first speech of the campaign at the mass-meeting to be held in the Academy of Music in Brooklyn next week. His speech, it was said, will deal entirely with the cannal question, the Elections bill and other State issues. Later in the week he will speak at the Tammany Halt ratification meeting, and then will make plans for a stumping tour to include the most preminent cities in the State. Nobody knows yet how many speeches in the State. Nobody knows yet how many speeches in the State. Nobody knows yet how many speeches in the State. Nobody knows will start on this tour. He is busy now preparing his letter of acceptance, which is expected to be ready within a day or so.

Mr. Schraub, who was chairman of the Syracuse convention, had a long talk yesterday with Senator McCarren and other lenders about the German vote. German voters can be brought to the support of the Democratic ticket, and argest that the managers make especial efforts in that direction.

Ex-Senator Hill has not yet appeared at headquisters, and he has not been heard from, and it was said yesterday that no intimation had been received as yet from the ex-Senator as to what he intended to do in the campaign. It is understood that Mr. Hill will be called upon for several speeches.

CAMPAIGN OF THE SILVERITES. TO OPEN WITH A MEETING NEXT WEEK-THE NAME DECIDED UPON.

The silver Democrats will open their campaign next week with a big meeting, at which Henry M. McDonald will formally accept the party's nomination for Governor. The leaders of the movement are proceeding rapidly with the work of obtaining the necessary number of petitions to secure a place for their ticket on the ballot. The silverites have taken new headquarters at

No. 19 West Twenty-fourth-st. The rooms, which No. 19 West Twenty-fourth-st. The rooms, which are on the first floor are large and commodious and are being stored with campaign material. Hereafter the party will discard the name of "Jeffersonian Democracy," by which it was known in the last Mayoralty campaign, and will adopt the title of "The Democracy of the Chicago Platform." James R. Brown, chairman of the Executive Committee, will have charge of the new headquarters.

Kingston, N. Y., Oct. 6 .- John N. Cordts, of this city, was nominated for State Senator by the Re publicans in the XXVth Senate District, at Coxsackie, this afternoon. In opposition to him, the Democrats here nominated this afternoon ex-Senator Jacob Rice, of this city, Ex-Congressman John H. Bagley, of Greene County, presided at the latter convention, and took occasion to warn his Ulster County friends that, although Greene had again yielded to their semands, the next time her rights must be solemnly respected. Greene County came here with Captain Arthur M. Murphy as its candicate. Amsterdam, N. Y., Oct. 6.—The Democrats of the XXVIIth Senate District held a convention in this city this afternoon, and went through the formality of making a nomination against Senator Hobart Krum, of Schoharle, the Republican nom-inee. They nominated Supervisor William J. Roser, of Canajoharle. It is not known whether he will accept the nomination. Several Democrats were suggested to the convention, but when they were asked to take the nomination they positively de-
